Survey design

Using the 'What, So What, Now What?' model

- Our focus is on authentic storytelling
- We used the reflective practice model: What, So What, Now What? to design open-ended questions
- ALIA National Office have been a huge support in creating the survey and promoting via ALIA channels

Accepting responses from:

Current LIS Students

Recent LIS graduates

New library professionals

Established library professionals

What will we use the data for?

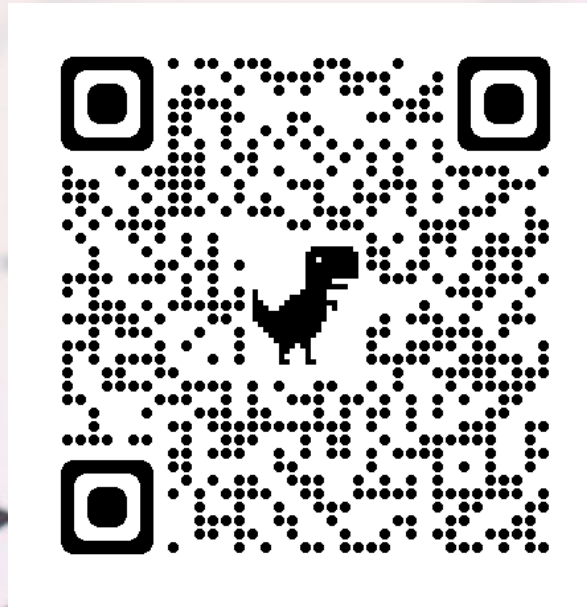

Transparency and future considerations
